

Kevin Karschnik

Educate | Empower | Encourage

Kevin's audiences walk away with information and strategies they can put to work immediately.

Kevin Karschnik is a keynote speaker, entrepreneur, and author who is recognized around the globe as an expert in leadership and communication.

Kevin delivers high-energy, high-impact keynote speeches and training workshops that helps business professionals with the strategies and practices they need to succeed in today's complex and competitive business climate.

He partners with Fortune 1000 companies who are committed to helping their talent strengthen their leadership skills, improve business relationships, and enhance their performance. Kevin has delivered messages to tens of thousands of business professionals from top companies, trade associations, and teams in 14 countries worldwide. Kevin is a successful entrepreneur whose professional career spans 30 years and includes starting and selling two million-dollar training companies. Kevin is a member of the National Speakers Association (NSA) and the Association for Talent Development (ATD).

Kevin is the co-author of a popular business book, Corporate Ovations. When he's not speaking, writing, or working with his clients, he's managing his fantasy football team, playing disc golf with his wife Tracy, and ordering his favorite pie from 600 Degrees Pizzeria.